QUIET DAY IN STRIKE

interference With the Cars Seems Ended.

STILL SOME ANNOYANCE

Two Men Arrested in the County Last Night-Five More Strikers Apply for Positions Making Sixty-four Altogether.

The street car strike situation is growing more and more quiet each day. Yesterday and last night there were but two cases of interference of any kind with the operation of cars, and these were insignificant. One or two cases of stonethrowing were reported, one of these being in broad daylight on Broad Street, near the Masonic Temple. The thrower escaped. The form of interference now adopted is the annoyance of car conductors and motormen by men and boys. who get on the cars and ride until they are asked for fare, then make a pretense of looking for their fare, and finally say they have no money and get off. Two young men or youths tried this three times in the West End, near Main and Strawberry Streets, last night, and finally jumped off and ran. The conductor pur-sued one of these men, and he ran into a field, where his companion joined him, and they attacked the conductor, accord-sued one of these men, and he ran into a field, where his companion joined him, and they attacked the conductor, according to reports. The patrols of the company, hearing the noise, ran up and took the two annoyers in custody. They were taken before a justice and halled. The cars were tied up in that vicinity for a short time while the conductor was gone. EVERYTHING QUIET.

EVERYTHING A GOOD FORCE.

The company is requiring the men to measure up to the standard, and if after strail they do not they are dispensed with. A large bunch of cards of those who have "jumped" or been discharged for incompetency or dishonesty has been accumulated. Now the officials believe they have a very good force, and that with a bit more experience here and familiarity with localities they will be as good as ever. Now that the disorder stage has passed, care are being run with much greater regularity and smoothness, and old conditions are returning.

Up to last night the company stated that a total of sixty-four of the strikers had been enrolled again. Two others who applied last night have not yet been accumulated. Now

The organization still holds its meetings regularly at 10 A. M. and at 5 P. M. at Sanger Hall. Contributions are reported and talks made by members of other labor organizations, generally in the nature of assurances of sympathy and encouragement to the men in their struggle. The hall is deserted at some portions of the day, the men remaining at their homes when there is no meeting in progress. The men generally stick together with remarkable determination. This resolute attitude has been especially striking to Mr. Orr, who is directing the strike. He says he never before saw such a compact organization. It is disintegrating very slowly.

A great many of the men have turned in badges and buttons, not waiting for the decision of the test cases, which come

An Open Meeting Will Be Held To-Night at Sanger Hall.

Night at Sanger Hall.

The Public Service Company, which proposes to operate automobile busses in competition with the trolley cars, will held a public meeting to-night at Sanger Hall, to which the public will be welcomed. Subscriptions to the stock can't he made at the meeting, and it is heped by the projectors that a considerable sum will be subscribed. At the same time the directors of the company will meet.

Mr. F. K. Gaff, the president of the organization, when seen yesterday eyentaken to secure a charter for the corporation. The capital stock will be minimum $5,000, and maximum $50,000, divided into one dollar shares, not more than fifty shares to any one person. He did not tate just how much stock has been subscribed, and did not even attempt to approximate the amount, saying that all the stock subscription lists were not yet in.

the stock Subscription lists were not yet in Asked as to the prices of machines he said that they ranged from $1,000 to $1,-200 for vehivles carrying from four to six persons. Larger vehicles carrying from twelve to twenty-five passengors, and capable of ascending any of the grades hereabouts, will cost from $2,500 to $1,000. The plans of the company have not yet been perfected, but progress in that direction will be made at the meetings of stockholders and directors this evening at Sanger hall. Subscriptions will be received, and any other business considered that may come up.

Strange Scene in the Mayor's Court at Fayetteville, North Carolina.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., July 28.—The court of the Mayor of the city presented strange scene yesterday for a prohibi tion town, thirteen persons, twelve white and one a woman, being arraigned for drunkenness and disorderly conduct Some of the cases were aggravated and deplorable, and among them were two o three young men of good family and rais-

Yesterday morning fire destroyed the dwelling of the superintendent and the honey storage house, containing thousands of pounds of fine honey, at Wakula. Robeson county, south of this city. Hard work saved the stables, barns, valuable horses and other live stock, with most of the agricultural implements. The Wakula farm is the property of Mr. W. A. McDonald, a prominent business man of this city, and it is famous for its honey, high grade tobacco and fine peaches, besides raising a great crop of cotton. James Bullard, a prosperous young farmer living in the eastern part of Cumberland county, was committed to fall yesterday, having become violently incane. There seems to be a lamentable increase of insanity in this section, perhaps greatest among the negroes.

Solemn mass of requiem in Latin was celebrated yesterday in St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church in tribute to the departed Pope Lee XIII., both the interior and exterior of the building being draped in black.

A large congregation, including many Protestants, heard the scholarly sermon of Rev. Father O'Brien on the life and services of His Holiness, and Miss Kate O'Brien rendered two beautiful solos. Major W. F. Robertson, of Wilmington, and Messrs. W. L. Holt and L. A. Williamson, of this city, constituting the Board of Appraisers, meet to-morrow to assess the value of the property of the Fayetteville Water Works Company, with a view to its purchase by the municipal government. It is stated that the report of business for the past year shows net earnings of a fair interest on $127.000. But the city has no idea of paying anywhere near that price for the plant.

Next Wedneeday Camp Ryan, United Confederate Veterans, at Maxton, will hold a reunion, in which all the Pee Dee and upper Cape Fear country will take part. Maids of honor and sponsors will be choser from the pretty girls of Robeson county, and addresses will be made by Hon. O. H. Dockery, of Richmond county, and Mr. J. H. Myrorer, of Fayetteville.

LONDONDERRY, IRELAND, July 23.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra were accorded a great reception on their arrival here to-day. Their Majestles were met at the rallroad station by the Mayor. The usual number of addresss was presented, replying to which the King expressed his pleasure at the references to the spirit of good feeling and harmony pervading all classes in Ireland, adding that if his visit helped to extend and consolidate this feeling he would be richly rewarded.

After the King had laid the foundation of Brooke Park, their Majestles who received an enthusiastic farewell left Londonderry for Buncrana, where they embarkesd on the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, for a cruise along the coast.

Prolect Decorations.

LONDON, July 28.—According to telegrams received here from Cork, a special police force has been appointed there to witch night and day in order to prevent the destruction of decoration by those who are opposed to the visit of King Edward and Queen Alexandra to Cork. The decorations along the route to be followed by the royal procession, which were already far advanced, were found in several instances to have been pulled down and otherwise damage.

A very severe electric and rain storm

A very severe electric and rain storm passed over the city early this morning. Considerable damage was done to telephone lines, and nearly every fire alarm box in the city was burned out. The city was in darkness for an hour, and a severe wind raged much of the time. Damage, however, was not nearly so much as it was feared it would be.

SEABOARD SHOPS.

The work of enlarging and concentrating the Seaboard Air Line shops in this city is being pushed rapidly now. Much of the old walls of the shops destroyed by fire several years ago are being utilized in the rebuilding. It is said to be the policy of the Seaboard authorities to increase the capacity of the shops here as rapidly as possible. The increase expected within the next few months is expected to be about one hundred men. The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allie Ivy fell into a large tub of water this morning and would have drowned had it not been for the fact that it became choked with a piece of beefsteak at the same time. When found only its little feet were taken out of the water, and it was taken out limp and apparently lifeliess. A physician was luckily near by, and he soon brought the child around again. He says the choking by the steak prevented the water from entering the windpipe and lungs, thereby saving its life. The child was alone in the house.

Interesting Discovery Made in a Salisbury Gas Tank.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SALISBURY, N. C., July 28.—While cleaning out an old gas tank, which had been used by this city for nearly fifty years, a few days ago, some interesting discoveries were made. This particular part of the old gas plant had not been in active service for some tip?, but recent heavy demands upon the supply brought it back into service. Superlinendent Frost set a number of worker men to cleaning and repairing it, when four musket barrels, in good condition, were found; also a six inch cannon ball, a nine inch shell, a Confederate musket in excellent shooting condition, a breech in excellent shooting condition, a breech in excellent shooting condition, a breech in the old tank since the Civil War.

The tar in which the curiosities were imbedded acted as a splendid preservative, which accounts for the condition in which they were found. While it is not known how these army utensils found their way to this hiding place, it is presumed they were blockaded there during it was maintained at Salisbury, and which is still of historic interest. CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 28.—Mrs. Bettle Giles, wife of Mr. A. C. Giles, overseer of the weave room at the Orient Cotton Mills, met with a painful and dangerous accident about 11 o'clock this mornins. She had left her home at No. 809 North Brevard Street, and was on her way to the home of a neighbor on an errand, when she was struck by one of the Four C's Company's trolly wire poles.

Several laborers, working under the direction of Mr. J. O. Andrews, were engaged in cutting down the pole, which had not been used in a long while. The pole was being lowered between two telephone poles, when it slipped from under the control of the laborers and struck Mrs. Giles, who chanced at that moment to be in the right direction on the sidewalk to receive the force of the blow. Her condition is critical.

A FARMER GOES SUDDENLY INSANE

SALISHURY, N. C., July 28.-One of Rowan's well-to-do young farmers, Mr. William Hollobaugh, of the southern part of the county, suddenly lost control of his mind on Sunday. Mr. Hol-lchaugh was attending church services at Faith at the time the attack He was seen to act strangely He was seen to act strangely the sermon was being delivered, and at the conclusion of the service he made his escape, running to the woods. A searching party found him in a near-by grave yard at the tomb of his child, who had recently been buried.

It is thought that the death of the child affected his mind, causing, it is hoped, only temporary insanity. The friends of the unfortunate man carried him to the home of a relative, but at an unguarded moment he made his escape a second time. Searching parties are out looking for him in various parts of the county, but as yet he has not been found.

The ball, 23-calibre, central fire, entered a little to the right side, two and a half inches above the ear and death was instantaneous. Beneath the gallaries the priests and laymen, who had been fortunate enough to secure tickets, but who were not distinguished enough for special places, were packed in dim seclusion.
